WELCOME, NAVDY!

FanCompass has announced a new relationship with Navdy, the world's first augmented reality technology company that is changing how we safely access useful information on our phones while driving. FanCompass will apply digital fan monetization best practices focused on Navdy early adopters and passionate brand influencers.

"With our expertise in lead generation and engagement," says Lisa Fahey, EVP Operations & CMO, "we can support Navdy by connecting with their most influential fans in unique ways that will drive referrals, sales leads, and ultimately ROI."
